Description/Artist's Statement:

While the utmost care will be taken in handling all works, the LAA, its directors and agents assume no liability for damage, loss, or theft of submitted work. Submission of all artwork, framing, and other materials is at my sole risk. Many submitted artworks will be shared online, and by entering, you grant the Lyme Art Association permission to use the artwork for this purpose. If two artworks are entered, LAA may choose, based on the number of submissions, to display only one artwork if there is a space limitation.
