

Abstracted

February 27 - April 10, 2026

Abstraction opens a space for artists to move beyond representation, exploring form, color, line, and gesture as expressions in themselves. Abstracted invites artists to push boundaries, distill ideas, and experiment with visual language in bold or subtle ways. From pure non-objectivity to works that balance between the recognizable and the abstract, this exhibition celebrates the power of non-objective and abstract work to evoke emotion, energy, and introspection.

About the Juror

Jill Krutick

jillkrutickfineart.com - instagram @jillkrutickfineart

Jill Krutick has been a full-time, contemporary abstract expressionist artist since 2010. But already, Krutick has been honored with six museum exhibitions on two continents, including four solo shows.

Krutick is a most unusual, even radical, artist in that she is equally analytical and creative. Before her fantasy career as a full-time artist, Krutick was a high-ranking media executive and a top-ranked equity analyst on Wall Street. Prior to leaving the corporate world and committing to her art practice full time, she was Fortune Magazine's #1 Entertainment Analyst in 2001.

The energy, talent and perception that created success in the business world have refocused on mark making that is both rhapsodic and conversational, expressing her passion for the environment and visionary imagination.

Her most recent solo museum exhibition in 2023 featured a site-specific 85-foot long abstract artwork, "Coral Beliefs," at Pyramid Hill Sculpture Park & Museum, Ohio. The mixed media on panel work captured both the exquisite beauty and the unprecedented tribulations faced by coral reefs around the world today.

Coral reefs have become the language in which Krutick communicates not only as an artist but as an artist/gallerist entrepreneur. Krutick has expanded her artist network, global reach and artistic discovery by opening her studio space to hundreds of artists over the past few years. She has worked with MFA students, photographers, printers, painters, sculptors, watercolorists and eco-warriors. These efforts underscore the necessity for artists to come together to realize their own dreams. Very much like a coral reef, we are all interdependent on each other.

Krutick paints in her Westchester, New York studio/gallery with her Old English Sheepdogs, Rocket, Violet and Rocket's son, Buzz.

Her work is in private and public collections as well as the permanent collections of several museums including the Coral Springs Museum of Art, in Coral Springs, Florida; Yellowstone Museum of Art, in Billings, Montana; The Longwood Center for the Visual Arts in Farmville, Virginia; and the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.
